Norway supports global health in its development aid policy, which includes SRHR and MNCH as key areas for action.⁽¹⁾ Women's rights and gender equality are considered overarching guiding principles of its external policies.

Norway has dropped in the FP ranking compared to the previous edition of Euromapping, but the country remains among the ten highest donors. While its RMNCH commitments have been increasing, FP commitments have decreased in 2016. However, the decrease in RMNCH and FP disbursements is slight.
